Important Fact!

Pop! OS Team is Developing their own desktop environment.

Ubuntu/Debian-Based Distro

It's based on Ubuntu and Debian, but adds its own touches like the cosmic desktop etc ... .

The Cosmic Desktop is considered a customized gnome but in the future, it will be a full DE written in Rust.

Linux users often recommend Pop!_OS for gaming not because it supports more games than other OSes but because it allows you to play games without worrying about installing graphics drivers. When downloading the distro, you can choose between a standard variant and another variant with NVIDIA drivers preinstalled.

Tiling Feature

The OS also offers lots of distinct features. One of the community's favorite features is something called "auto-tiling" As the name suggests, the feature arranges windows into tiles and gives you a bunch of keyboard shortcuts to navigate them, thereby ensuring that you spend less time moving your mouse and more time getting work done.

Features
